Analysis by the Legislative Reference BureauIntroduction

Under current law, the federal Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA), which governs jurisdiction over child custody proceedings involving an Indian child and provides certain minimum standards for those proceedings, supercedes the provisions of the Children's Code and the Juvenile Justice Code in any child custody proceeding governed by ICWA. For purposes of ICWA, "child custody proceeding" means any of the following:

1. Any action removing an Indian child from his or her parent or Indian custodian, that is, an Indian person who has legal custody of an Indian child under tribal law or custom or state law or to whom temporary physical custody of an Indian child has been transferred by the Indian child's parent, for temporary placement in a foster home or institution, in which the parent or Indian custodian cannot have the Indian child removed on demand, but not including a placement that is based on an act that would be a crime if committed by an adult (out-of-home care placement).
2. A termination of parental rights (TPR) proceeding.
3. A temporary placement of an Indian child in a foster home or institution after a TPR, but prior to or in lieu of an adoptive placement (preadoptive placement).
4. An adoptive placement.

This bill incorporates the jurisdictional provisions of ICWA and the minimum standards for Indian child custody proceedings established by ICWA into the provisions of the Children's Code relating to child in need of protection or services (CHIPS), TPR, and adoption proceedings and the provisions of the Juvenile Justice Code relating to juvenile in need of protection or services (JIPS) proceedings, other than proceedings that are based on the commission of an act that would be a crime if committed by an adult.

BILL

Jurisdiction

Under ICWA, an Indian tribe has exclusive jurisdiction over an Indian child custody proceeding involving an Indian child who resides or is domiciled within the reservation of the tribe and over an Indian child who is a ward of a tribal court, regardless of the residence or domicile of the Indian child, except when jurisdiction is otherwise vested in the state by federal law. This grant of jurisdiction, however, does not prevent the emergency removal of an Indian child who resides or is domiciled on a reservation, but who is temporarily located off the reservation, from his or her parent or Indian custodian in order to prevent imminent physical damage or harm to the Indian child.

Also, under ICWA, a state court is required to transfer a proceeding involving an out-of-home care placement of, or TPR to, an Indian child who is not residing or domiciled within the reservation of the Indian child's tribe to the jurisdiction of the Indian child's tribe upon the petition of the Indian child's parent, Indian custodian, or tribe, unless a parent of the Indian child objects, the tribal court declines jurisdiction, or the state court finds good cause not to transfer the proceeding. In addition, ICWA permits an Indian child's parent, Indian custodian, or tribe to intervene at any point in an Indian child custody proceeding in state court involving the out-of-home care placement of, or TPR to, the Indian child.

Finally, with respect to jurisdiction over an Indian child custody proceeding, ICWA requires a state court to decline jurisdiction and to forthwith return an Indian child to his or her parent or Indian custodian, unless returning the Indian child would subject the Indian child to a substantial and immediate danger or threat of danger, when a petitioner in an Indian child custody proceeding has improperly removed the Indian child from the custody of his or her parent or Indian custodian or has improperly retained custody after a visit or other temporary relinquishment of custody.

This bill incorporates those jurisdictional provisions of ICWA into the Children's Code and the Juvenile Justice Code. The bill also does all of the following:

1. Specifies that the provisions of ICWA and of the Children's Code and Juvenile Justice Code relating to Indian child custody proceedings apply to any Indian child custody proceeding regardless of whether the Indian child is in the custody of an Indian parent, Indian custodian, extended family member, or other person at the commencement of the proceeding and whether the Indian child resides or is domiciled on or off a reservation.

2. Prohibits a court assigned to exercise jurisdiction under the Children's Code and the Juvenile Justice Code (juvenile court) from determining whether those provisions apply to an Indian child custody proceeding based on whether the Indian child is part of an existing Indian family.

3. Permits a juvenile court to find good cause to deny transfer of a proceeding to an Indian child's tribe only if it is shown that the Indian child is 12 years of age or over and objects to the transfer or that the evidence or testimony necessary to decide the case cannot be presented in tribal court without undue hardship to the parties or the witnesses and that the tribal court is unable to mitigate the hardship by making arrangements to receive the evidence or testimony by use of telephone or live audiovisual means, by hearing the evidence or testimony at a location that is convenient to the parties and witnesses, or by use of other means permissible under the tribal court's rules of evidence.

Out-of-home care placements and TPR proceedings

ICWA requires a party seeking an out-of-home care placement of, or TPR to, an Indian child in an involuntary proceeding in state court to notify the Indian child's parent, Indian custodian, and tribe, by registered mail with return receipt requested, of the proceeding and of their right to intervene in the proceeding. Under ICWA, if the identity or location of the parent, Indian custodian, or tribe cannot be determined, notice of the proceeding must be provided to the U.S. secretary of the interior, who then has 15 days after receipt of the notice to provide the notice to the parent, Indian custodian, and tribe. ICWA prohibits an out-of-home care placement or TPR proceeding from being heard until at least ten days after receipt of notice by the parent, Indian custodian, or tribe or by the U.S. secretary of the interior and permits a parent, Indian custodian, or tribe to request up to 20 additional days to prepare for the proceeding. The plea, fact-finding, and dispositional stages

This bill requires an Indian child's parent, Indian custodian, and tribe to be notified of a CHIPS, JIPS, or TPR proceeding involving the Indian child, of a change in placement in a CHIPS or JIPS proceeding involving the Indian child, or of a hearing to determine or review the permanency plan for the Indian child by certified mail for the first hearing at every stage of a proceeding and by mail, personal delivery, or facsimile transmission, but not electronic mail, for subsequent hearings in a stage of a proceeding. (A permanency plan is a plan designed to ensure that a child is reunified with his or her family whenever appropriate or that the child quickly attains a placement providing long-term stability.) The bill prohibits a CHIPS, JIPS, or TPR hearing, a change in placement hearing, or a permanency plan determination or review hearing from being held until at least ten days after receipt of notice of the hearing by the parent, Indian custodian, or tribe or until at least 25 days after receipt of notice of the hearing by the U.S. secretary of the interior and permits a parent, Indian custodian, or tribe to request up to 20 additional days to prepare for the hearing.

Under ICWA, a parent or Indian custodian who is indigent has the right to court-appointed counsel in any proceeding involving the removal of an Indian child from his or her home, placement of an Indian child in an out-of-home care placement, or TPR to an Indian child. This bill incorporates that right into the Children's Code and the Juvenile Justice Code with respect to a parent 18 years of age or over or an Indian custodian. With respect to a parent under 18 years of age, the bill retains current law, which provides for the appointment of counsel without a determination of indigency.

ICWA requires a party seeking to effect an out-of-home care placement of, or a TPR to, an Indian child to satisfy the state court that active efforts have been made to provide remedial services and rehabilitation programs designed to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and that those efforts have proved unsuccessful. ICWA also prohibits a state court from ordering an out-of-home care placement of, or TPR to, an Indian child in the absence of a determination, supported by clear and convincing evidence in the case of out-of-home care placement and by evidence beyond a reasonable doubt in the case of TPR, including the testimony of qualified expert witnesses, that continued custody of the Indian child by his or her parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the Indian child.

the This bill requires a CHIPS or JIPS order or a change in placement order removing an Indian child from his or her home and placing ~~an~~ Indian child outside the home to include a finding by the juvenile court or jury, supported by clear and convincing evidence, including the testimony of one or more qualified expert witnesses, that continued custody of the Indian child by his or her parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the Indian child and a finding, supported by clear and convincing evidence that the agency primarily responsible for providing services to the Indian child has made active efforts to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and that those efforts have proved unsuccessful. The bill also requires the juvenile court or jury in a TPR proceeding to determine if it is proved beyond a reasonable doubt, including the testimony of one or more qualified expert witnesses, that continued custody of the Indian child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child and if it is proved beyond a reasonable doubt that active efforts have been made to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and that those efforts have proved unsuccessful. In addition, the bill requires an order extending a CHIPS or JIPS dispositional order for an Indian child who is placed outside the home and a summary of a permanency plan review for such a child to include a determination as to whether active efforts were made to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and as to whether those efforts have proved unsuccessful.

The bill also changes current law with respect to the grounds for involuntary TPR. Specifically, current law provides various grounds for involuntary TPR, including abandonment, continuing need of protection or services (continuing CHIPS), continuing parental disability, continuing denial of physical placement or visitation, child abuse, and failure to assume parental responsibility. Currently, one of the elements that must be proved to establish continuing CHIPS is that the agency responsible for the care of the child and the family has made a reasonable effort to provide the services ordered by the juvenile court. Currently, "reasonable effort" is defined as an earnest and conscientious effort to take good faith steps to provide the services ordered by the juvenile court which takes into consideration the characteristics of the parent or child, the level of cooperation of the parent, and other relevant circumstances. This bill requires those efforts to be proved to establish any involuntary TPR ground.

The bill defines a "qualified expert witness" as a person who is a member of the Indian child's tribe knowledgeable in the tribe's customs relating to family organization or child-rearing practices, a member of another tribe who is knowledgeable in those customs, a professional person having extensive knowledge of those customs, or a layperson having substantial knowledge of those customs and requires a qualified expert witness to be chosen in that order of preference. The bill also specifies that the evidence of active efforts to prevent the breakup of the Indian family must show that there has been a vigorous and concerted level of case work beyond the level that typically constitutes reasonable efforts to prevent the removal of the child from the home and requires the active efforts to be made in a manner that takes into account the prevailing social and cultural values, conditions, and way of life of the Indian child's tribe and to utilize the available resources of the Indian child's tribe, tribal and other Indian child welfare agencies, extended family members, and other individual Indian caregivers.

ICWA further requires an Indian child who is accepted for an out-of-home care placement or a preadoptive placement to be placed in the least restrictive setting which most approximates a family and in which the Indian child's special needs, if any, may be met and requires an Indian child to be placed within reasonable proximity to his or her home, taking into account any special needs of the Indian child. ICWA also requires that a preference be given, in the absence of good cause to the contrary, to a placement with a member of the Indian child's extended family, a foster home licensed, approved, or specified by the Indian child's tribe, an Indian foster home licensed or approved by an authorized non-Indian licensing authority, or an institution for children approved by an Indian tribe or operated by an Indian organization that has a program suitable to meet the Indian child's needs, unless the Indian child's tribe has established a different order of preference. ICWA also specifies that the standards to be applied in meeting the placement preference requirements of ICWA are the prevailing social and cultural standards of the Indian community in which the Indian child's parent or extended family resides or with which the parent or extended family maintains social and cultural ties.

This bill requires the juvenile court, in placing or changing the placement of an Indian child who is in need of protection or services or in placing an Indian child in a preadoptive placement following a TPR, to designate one of the following as the placement for the Indian child, in the order of preference listed, unless the Indian child's tribe has established a different order of preference or good cause is shown for departing from that order of preference:

1. The home of an extended family member of the Indian child.
2. A foster home or treatment foster home licensed, approved, or specified by the Indian child's tribe.
3. An Indian foster home or treatment foster home licensed or approved by the Department of Health and Family Services (DHFS), a county department of human services or social services (county department), or a child welfare agency.
4. A group home or residential care center for children and youth approved by an Indian tribe or operated by an Indian organization that has a program suitable to meet the needs of the Indian child.

The bill requires the juvenile court to designate a placement that is the least restrictive setting that most approximates a family, that meets the Indian child's special needs, if any, and that is within reasonable proximity to the Indian child's home, taking into account the Indian child's special needs. The bill also specifies that the standards to be applied in meeting the placement preference requirements of the

the testimony of an expert witness, including bill are the prevailing social and cultural standards of the Indian community in which the Indian child's parent or extended family members reside or with which the parent or extended family members maintain social and cultural ties.

In addition, the bill requires a determination as to whether there is good cause to depart from the order of placement preference requirements of the bill to be based on: 1) the request of a parent or, if the Indian child is of sufficient age and developmental level to make an informed decision, the Indian child, unless the request is made for the purpose of avoiding the application of the bill and ICWA; 2) any extraordinary physical, mental, or emotional health needs of the Indian child requiring highly specialized treatment services as established by a qualified expert witness; and 3) the unavailability of a suitable placement after active efforts have been made to place the child in accordance with those order of placement preference requirements.

Finally, with respect to involuntary out-of-home care placements and TPR proceedings, ICWA permits the Indian child or the Indian child's parent, Indian custodian, or tribe to petition any court of competent jurisdiction to invalidate an out-of-home care placement or TPR upon a showing that the placement or TPR violated any provision of ICWA relating to out-of-home care placements or TPR.

This bill permits any Indian child who is the subject of an out-of-home care placement or of a TPR proceeding, any parent or Indian custodian of that Indian child, or the Indian child's tribe to move the juvenile court to invalidate that out-of-home care placement or TPR on the grounds that the out-of-home care placement was made or the TPR was ordered in violation of any provision of the bill or of ICWA relating to out-of-home care placements or TPR. If the juvenile court finds that those grounds exist ~~and if the Indian child has not been adopted, the juvenile court must invalidate the out-of-home care placement or TPR, and the Indian child must be returned to his or her parent or Indian custodian. If the Indian child has been adopted, the parent or Indian custodian may petition the juvenile court for return of custody of the Indian child.~~ <sup>Keep</sup>

Voluntary out-of-home care placements or TPR; consent; withdrawal

Under ICWA, the consent of a parent to an out-of-home care placement of, or a TPR to, an Indian child is not valid unless executed in writing, recorded before a judge of a court of competent jurisdiction, and accompanied by the judge's certification that the terms and consequences of the consent were fully explained in detail and were fully understood by the parent. ICWA also requires the court to certify that the parent fully understood the explanation in English or that the explanation was interpreted into a language that the parent understood. Under ICWA, any consent given prior to, or within ten days after, the birth of an Indian child, is not valid. ICWA permits a parent to withdraw his or her consent to a TPR for any reason prior to the entry of a final decree of TPR, or to withdraw his or her consent to an out-of-home care placement at any time, and the Indian child must be returned to the parent. After the entry of a final decree of adoption of an Indian child, the Indian child's parent may withdraw consent to the adoption of the Indian child on the grounds of fraud or duress and may petition the court to vacate the decree. If the court finds that the consent was obtained through fraud or duress, the court must vacate the decree and return the Indian child to his or her parent, except that no adoption that has been effective for at least two years may be invalidated by the withdrawal of consent on the grounds of fraud or duress.

This bill provides that a voluntary consent to an out-of-home care or placement of, or TPR to, an Indian child is valid only if the consent is executed in writing, recorded before a judge, and accompanied by a written certification by the judge that the terms and consequences of the consent were fully explained in detail to and were fully understood by the parent. The bill also requires the judge to certify that the parent fully understood the explanation in English or that the explanation was interpreted into a language that the parent understood. Under the bill, any consent to an out-of-home care placement or TPR given prior to or within ten days after the birth of an Indian child is not valid.

The bill permits a parent who has consented to TPR to an Indian child to withdraw the consent for any reason at any time prior to the entry of a final order terminating parental rights, or a parent who has consented to an out-of-home care placement of an Indian child to withdraw that consent at any time, and the Indian child must be returned to his or her parent. After the entry of a final order granting adoption, a parent who has consented to TPR to an Indian child may withdraw that consent and move the juvenile court for relief from the order on the grounds that the consent was obtained through fraud, misrepresentation, or duress, if the motion is filed within two years after the entry of an order granting adoption of the Indian child. If the juvenile court finds that the consent was obtained through fraud, misrepresentation, or duress, the juvenile court must vacate the TPR order and, if applicable, the order granting adoption.

Adoption

ICWA requires, when an Indian child is placed for adoption, that a preference be given, in the absence of good cause to the contrary, to a placement with a member of the Indian child's extended family, other members of the Indian child's tribe, or other Indian families, unless the Indian child's tribe has established a different order of preference. ICWA also specifies that the standards to be applied in meeting the placement preference requirements of ICWA are the prevailing social and cultural standards of the Indian community in which the Indian child's parent or extended family resides or with which the parent or extended family maintains social and cultural ties.

This bill requires DHFS, a county department, or a child welfare agency, in placing an Indian child for adoption or in investigating or making a recommendation regarding the adoptive placement of an Indian child, and a juvenile court, in determining whether an adoptive placement is in the best interests of an Indian child, to give preference to a placement with one of the following, in the order of preference listed, unless the Indian child's tribe has established a different order of preference or good cause is shown for departing from that order of preference:

1. An extended family member of the Indian child.
2. Another member of the Indian child's tribe.
3. Another Indian family.

BILL

The bill also specifies that the standards to be applied in meeting the placement preference requirements of the bill are the prevailing social and cultural standards of the Indian community in which the Indian child's parent or extended family members reside or with which the parent or extended family members maintain social and cultural ties.

In addition, the bill requires a determination as to whether there is good cause to depart from the order of placement preference requirements of the bill to be based on: 1) the request of a parent or, if the Indian child is of sufficient age and developmental level to make an informed decision, the Indian child, unless the request is made for the purpose of avoiding the application of the bill and ICWA; 2) any extraordinary physical, mental, or emotional health needs of the Indian child requiring highly specialized treatment services as established by a qualified expert witness; and 3) the unavailability of a suitable placement after active efforts have been made to place the child in accordance with those order of placement preference requirements.

ICWA permits a biological parent or former Indian custodian of an Indian child who has been adopted to petition for return of custody of the Indian child when a final decree of adoption of the Indian child has been vacated or set aside or when the adoptive parents of the Indian child voluntarily consent to TPR to the Indian child. Under ICWA, the state court must grant the petition unless there is a showing that return of custody is not in the best interests of the Indian child.

This bill requires a juvenile court that vacates or sets aside a final order granting adoption of an Indian child or that grants an order voluntarily terminating parental rights to an Indian child of all adoptive parents of the Indian child to notify the Indian child's former parent and former Indian custodian, and the former parent or former Indian custodian may petition for the return of custody of the Indian child. The juvenile court must grant the petition unless there is a showing of good cause that return of custody is not in the best interest of the Indian child.

Finally, ICWA requires a state court that enters a final decree of adoption of an Indian child to: 1) provide the U.S. secretary of the interior with a copy of the decree, together with such other information as may be necessary to show the name and tribal affiliation of the Indian child, the names and addresses of the Indian child's biological parents, the names and addresses of the Indian child's adoptive parents, and the identity of any agency having files or information relating to the adoptive placement of the Indian child; and 2) inform an Indian individual who has reached the age of 18 years and who was the subject of an adoptive placement, upon application, of the tribal affiliation, if any, of the individual's biological parents and with such other information as may be necessary to protect any rights flowing from the individual's tribal relationship. ICWA also provides that, when a biological parent has filed an affidavit requesting that his or her identity remain confidential, the court must include that affidavit with the information provided to the U.S. secretary of the interior.

This bill requires a juvenile court that enters an order granting adoption of an Indian child to: 1) provide the U.S. secretary of the interior with a copy of the order, together with such other records and papers pertaining to the adoption proceeding as may be necessary to provide that secretary with the name and tribal affiliation of the Indian child, the names and addresses of the Indian child's birth parents, the names and addresses of the Indian child's adoptive parents, and the identity of any agency that has in its possession any files or information relating to the adoptive placement of the Indian child; 2) give the birth parent an opportunity to file an affidavit indicating that the birth parent wishes the U.S. secretary of the interior to maintain the confidentiality of the birth parent's identity and include that affidavit with the information provided to the U.S. secretary of the interior; and 3) provide or arrange to provide an Indian adoptee who is 18 years of age or older, upon request, with the tribal affiliation, if any, of the adoptee's birth parents and with such other information as may be necessary to protect any rights accruing to the adoptee as a result of that affiliation.

BILL*SECTION 13

1 child custody proceeding based on whether the Indian child is part of an existing
2 Indian family.

3 (b) Exclusive tribal jurisdiction. 1. An Indian tribe shall have exclusive
4 jurisdiction over any Indian child custody proceeding involving an Indian child who
5 resides or is domiciled within the reservation of the tribe, except when that 6 jurisdiction is otherwise vested in the state by federal law and except as provided in 7 subd. 2. If an Indian child is a ward of a tribal court, the Indian tribe shall retain 8 exclusive jurisdiction regardless of the residence or domicile of the child.

9 2. Subdivision 1. does not prevent an Indian child who resides or is domiciled
10 within a reservation, but who is temporarily located off the reservation, from being
11 taken into and held in custody under ss. 48.19 to 48.21 in order to prevent imminent
12 physical harm or damage to the Indian child. The person taking the Indian child into 13 custody or the intake worker shall immediately release the Indian child from custody
14 upon determining that holding the Indian child in custody is no longer necessary to 15 prevent imminent physical damage or harm to the Indian child and shall 16 expeditiously restore the Indian child to his or her parent or Indian custodian, 17 release the Indian child to an appropriate official of the Indian child's tribe, or 18 initiate an Indian child custody proceeding, as may be appropriate.

19 (c) Transfer of proceedings to tribe. In any Indian child custody proceeding
20 under this chapter involving an out-of-home placement of, or termination of 21 parental rights to, an Indian child who is not residing or domiciled within the 22 reservation of the Indian child's tribe, the court assigned to exercise jurisdiction
23 under this chapter shall, upon the petition of the Indian child's parent, Indian 24 custodian, or tribe, transfer the proceeding to the jurisdiction of the tribe unless any 25 of the following applies:

BILL

- 1           1. A parent of the Indian child objects to the transfer.
- 2           2. The Indian child's tribe does not have a tribal court or tribal court of the
- 3 Indian child's tribe declines jurisdiction.
- 4           3. The court determines that good cause exists to deny the transfer. The court
- 5 may determine that good cause exists to deny the transfer only if the person opposing
- 6 the transfer shows to the satisfaction of the court any of the following:
- 7           a. That the Indian child is 12 years of age or over and objects to the transfer.
- 8           b. That the evidence or testimony necessary to decide the case cannot be
- 9 presented in tribal court without undue hardship to the parties or the witnesses and
- 10 that the tribal court is unable to mitigate the hardship by making arrangements to
- 11 receive the evidence or testimony by use of telephone or live audiovisual means, by
- 12 hearing the evidence or testimony at a location that is convenient to the parties and
- 13 witnesses, or by use of other means permissible under the tribal court's rules of
- 14 evidence.
- 15           (d) Declination of jurisdiction. If the court assigned to exercise jurisdiction
- 16 under this chapter determines that the petitioner in an Indian child custody
- 17 proceeding has improperly removed the Indian child from the custody of his or her
- 18 parent or Indian custodian or has improperly retained custody of the Indian child
- 19 after a visit or other temporary relinquishment of custody, the court shall decline
- 20 jurisdiction over the petition and immediately return the Indian child to the custody
- 21 of the parent or Indian custodian, unless the court determines that returning the
- 22 Indian child to his or her parent or Indian custodian would subject the Indian child
- 23 to substantial and immediate danger or the threat of that danger.

BILL*SECTION 13

1 (e) Intervention. An Indian child's Indian custodian or tribe may intervene at 2 any point in an Indian child custody proceeding under this chapter involving an
3 out-of-home care placement of, or termination of parental rights to, the Indian child.

4 (f) Full faith and credit. The state shall give full faith and credit to the public
5 acts, records, and judicial proceedings of any Indian tribe that are applicable to an 6 Indian child custody proceeding to the same extent that the state gives full faith and
